2. The Website obtains information about its users and their activities in the following ways:
 - a) by storing information voluntarily provided by website users in the forms made available on the website,
 - b) by using cookies stored on terminal equipment,
 - c) through profiling.

II. Information obtained in forms

1. The website collects information voluntarily provided by the user.
2. Apart from the information referred to in section 1, the website records information about connection parameters: connection time marking, user's IP address.
3. The scope of data collected in forms and the purpose of their processing depend on the function of a particular form (e.g. newsletter subscription form, contact forms, registration form for creating an account, product enquiry forms, etc.).

III. About cookies

1. The website uses cookies.
2. A cookie is a small text file saved by www.malkowski.pl on your device when you view content on the website. When using the website without changing your browser settings, you give consent to our use of cookies to ensure the convenience and security of your visit to the website.

3. Most websites use cookies. Your web browser creates these files each time you visit our website. Some of them may remain in your device after you close your browser. When you visit the website in the future using the same device, your browser will verify whether the relevant cookie (containing the name of our website) is stored in your device and will send the data back to the website. This makes it possible to know that you used our website in the past and, in some cases, to adapt the content presented on the website to their preferences. In this way, cookies make it easier for you to use any websites you have visited before. If you are using the same device and browser that you used in the past, cookies make it possible to save your individual preferences.
4. You may change the cookies settings through the browser you use to browse our website (also to block or delete cookies originating from specific websites) at any time. Most browsers allow you to accept or reject all cookies, to accept only certain types of cookies or to activate notifications to be informed each time about a website attempting to save a cookie on your device. The panel for managing cookies differs slightly from browser to browser. To find out more, go to the "Help" tab in your browser or visit www.wszystkoociasteczkach.pl (PL) / www.allaboutcookies.org (EN) .
5. Please note that if you disable all cookies, www.malkowski.pl may not function properly.

IV. Personal data collected via www.malkowski.pl.

1. The controller of personal data obtained through the forms placed on the website is Małkowski-Martech, Tel: (+48) 61 222 75 00, e-mail: biuro@malkowski.pl.
2. Contact with the controller in matters related to personal data protection is possible by e-mail at biuro@malkowski.pl or by postal mail to the address of the controller's registered office with the note "Personal data protection".
3. Pursuant to the provisions of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (OJ L 119 of 04.05.2016, p. 1) (hereinafter referred to as the GDPR), personal data of the website users are processed:

- a) pursuant to Article 6(1)(a) in connection with Article 22(2)(c) of the GDPR for the purpose of automated decision-making based on profiling, in order to tailor advertisements and content to the user's individual needs in the best possible way - until the withdrawal of the consent;
- b) pursuant to Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR, i.e. your voluntary consent given under an appropriate form - for the purpose arising from the function of a given form (e.g. sending a newsletter, handling product enquiries, establishing contact) - for the time of performing activities arising from the function of a given form or until the consent is withdrawn;
- c) pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR in order for the controller to assert claims, if any, related to the handling of requests submitted via contact forms and to conduct marketing activities promoting the controller's activity, including with the use of e-mail addresses and telephone numbers - until you object to the processing of your data on this basis.

4. Website users have the following rights in relation to the processing of their personal data:

- a) the right to access their data - pursuant to Article 15 of the GDPR,
- b) the right to rectify their data - pursuant to Article 16 of the GDPR,
